DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Richard Gollhofer on 2/22/06.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claims 9-11, 13 and 15 have been canceled.

New Claims 16 and 17 have been added as follows

-- 16. A computer-readable medium stored with a detailed statement notifying program executed by a computer communicable with a consumer terminal of a consumer who makes a transaction regarding buying an article with a seller selling the article, to perform a method comprising:

storing transaction information on each transaction of the article between the consumer and the seller, the transaction information including identification information of a party concerned with the transaction;

determining that present time is within a warrantee period for the article offered by the party whose identification information is included in the transaction information;

in response to said determining, obtaining logo information for showing a logo utilized by the party whose identification information is included in the transaction information;

generating detailed statement information for displaying the detailed statement of the transaction of the merchandise on a display of the consumer terminal, into which the logo information is incorporated so as to show the logo related to a content of the transaction information, based on the transaction information; and transmitting the detailed statement information to the consumer terminal.

17. (new) A detailed statement display method for displaying information about a transaction between a consumer buying an article and a seller selling the article, said method comprising:

storing transaction information on each transaction of the article between the consumer and the seller, the transaction information including identification information of a party concerned with the transaction;

determining that present time is within a warrantee period for the article offered by the party whose identification information is included in the transaction information;

in response to said determining, obtaining logo information for showing a logo utilized by the party whose identification information is included in the transaction information;

generating a detailed statement screen for the detailed statement of the transaction of the merchandise on a display of the consumer terminal, into which the logo information is incorporated so as to show the logo related to a content of the transaction information, based on the transaction information; and displaying the generated detailed statement screen.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1, 3-8 and 16-17 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Independent claims 1, 8, 16, and 17 recite storing transaction information, determining that the present time is within a warrantee period, then in response to the determining obtaining logo information, generating and transmitting a detailed statement with transaction and logo information. None of the prior art shows or teaches these limitations. Kramer et al. is the closest prior art, which shows a transaction statement with logo information. However, Kramer has nothing to do with warrantees. Claims 3-7 are dependent upon claim 1.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Fransak et al. is the closest non-patent reference found during the search, but the date of 2001 leaves it ambiguous as to if it could be used as a valid source for rejection. Korean reference Son does not meet the priority date of the application and is made of record as merely being the closest foreign reference found.
